TEXT 1*My first date with Molly

One day I invited Molly into a French restaurant. At first we agreed to meet on the square in front of the museum. But then I had to go by bus, so I sent Molly a text message to change the place. I wanted to meet at the bus stop near the restaurant, but Molly didn't understand the message and went to the restaurant. She waited in front of it and I waited at the bus stop. After a while I went to the square. I even entered the museum and after that I decided to go to the restaurant where we finally met. Then we had a lovely evening.

We have finally moved in. I am sending you a plan of our new home. There is one big bedroom with a double bed and two little bedrooms for visitors. You can see the bathroom and toilet opposite the big bedroom. Between the bathroom and the living room there is the kitchen with a cooker, a table and four chairs. I really like our living room with the new sofa and two armchairs. Jack bought a little table for a computer there, too. You must come and visit us soon.

My favourite thing

I have a lot of great things in my room. Last Christmas, for example, I got a high-tech DVD player. My last birthday present was a very expensive clock that shows times all over the world, the temperature outside and it can also be used as a diary. But I love my modern television best. It has forty-five channels and a beautiful screen. It is the best thing in my room. My parents also promised to buy me a new computer, which I really want because I want to play my favourite games on it.

The lottery

Martin Biggs is a great lottery fan. He buys a ticket every Friday and hopes to win one day. However, he doesn't really need the money from the lottery because he is quite rich. He even bought a new car last week. But buying tickets is a game and fun for him.

One Friday, Martin went to buy a ticket again, as usual. There were a lot of people in the shop because that day the jackpot was very high and Martin had to wait in a long queue. So he started watching the people around him. He knew almost everybody except the shop assistant who was new to him, but she was very attractive.

After a few minutes, an old lady came into the shop. She looked very tired and it was hard for her to walk. Martin remembered his mother's words: "Always be nice to old people." So he let the lady go in front of him in the queue. The woman thanked him and smiled. She bought a ticket and went home. Then Martin bought his ticket after her and left the shop as well.

A few days later, Martin went online to check his email and then he went to buy a newspaper. The first news on the main page was about Annie Watson who won the £10 million jackpot in the lottery. In the evening the woman was on TV, too and she said it was a shock for her. Martin recognized that it was the old lady from the shop. He let her go in front of him and she bought the winning ticket.

Martin was unhappy because he could have bought the ticket himself. He could have been on TV and famous. Now Annie Watson was lucky and a TV star, too.

17 I really like travelling and I would like to visit the whole world. But I cannot go everywhere, so I like learning about countries, their capitals, rivers and mountains. Our teacher is great because he lets us see a lot of pictures.

Odpověď:

18 I love old stories. At school my favourite subject is about people from the past and things they did. It is very interesting for me, so I always read books about the topics from our lessons at home. I am quite good at this subject because it is also my hobby.

Odpověď:

21 I am quite a good student at many subjects at school because I don't mind studying at home. But there is one thing I really love and I can do it all day long. It is drawing and painting, especially animals. Every day I do at least one picture at home.

22 I am very interested in the cultures of different countries and life stories of people – real or invented, so I love books and reading. I prefer biographies of sportsmen but fiction is fine as well. In my favourite subject we read a lot and that's fine.
